Aims and Scope

“GET – GREEN EFFICIENT TECHNOLOGIES” is an independent media platform for energy supply, efficiency improvement and alternative energy sources and storage.

There is still a high potential to save energy in industry. Efficiency is not only important for the profitability of a company, it is also target-oriented and saves resources.

The importance of efficiency, especially in energy production, the role played by hydrogen, industrial processes, resource and recycling management, how energy can be stored and much more can be found in the new GET.

In technical articles from research and industry we present practicable ways to more sustainability, useful information and concept ideas as well as insights into efficient technologies, processes and products.

Four issues are planned for 2024 two in German (print and digital) and two in English (digital).
